DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 2-5, 7-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In claim 2 item c, applicant claims a body supporting the first and second terminals with a first bore to the first and second co-axial lead openings and later that the body inlet (which has no antecedent basis) which receives a lug member has receives a fastener through the bore into the lug opening. It is believed that applicant has combined embodiments in a manner never originally disclosed. The embodiment which provides for a lug member and fastener connection between the housing and the header is figure 10. While the lug members 204 and 206 have respective openings 208 and 210 that align with bore members 212, 214, 216 and 218, these bore members are not disclosed as ones that lead into the terminal openings as now claimed in claim 2. Instead, applicant does have embodiments in which the bore members 92 that align with the terminals for receiving lead pins 104 etc. have additional bores 112 and 114 for receiving set screws, however these are for fastening the lead pins to the header and not for securing the header to the housing lugs. Therefore applicant's do not have support for the invention as now claimed based upon the examiner's assessment of the specification and claims as filed.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 2-5, 7-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 2 recites the limitation "the body inlet" in clause (c) line 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wiklund et al USPN 5,871,515.

Wiklund teaches an implantable device with an enclosure having a power source and circuitry and a feedthrough wire 40 having a hermetic seal member 66 for passing the conductor into the enclosure. header member 12 has terminals 62, 64. A portion of the enclosure has lugs 54 (figure 12, 13) or 252 (figures 18-19) having openings (152 respectively 20') that feed into an opening (i.e inlet) having an intersecting bore that extends into the header body. In figure 18 the inlet maybe considered 242, with the bore portion being the wider top portion. While applicant recites the fastener only as an intended use and not as structure, the examiner would also consider the thermoplastic that is ultrasonically melted into the lug opening to be a fastener received therein.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Westlund USPN 5,749,911 (alone or in view of Langer USPN 4,254,775).

Westlund shows an implantable stimulator in figure 5 having a housing portion 12, 26, 28, a header portion 14 and an anchor member 24 having a portion that protrudes through the housing and encased by the plastic header. Control circuitry 32 and energy source 30 is connected to terminals positioned outside the housing within the plastic header via feed-through wires that are hermetically sealed feed-throughs (column 3 lines 63-67). While not specifically shown, this is understood in the art to include an insulating sealing arrangement between the conductor and the metal housing including the arrangement shown in Langer (see element 56) for visualization purposes. Such arrangements are standard.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-16, 30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
